To whom it may concern-

I worked in private practice for several years prior to coming to CIGNA 10 years ago. The quality of life, benefits, colleagues, and the ability to provide quality care in this practice setting is unmatched.

I never want to return to private practice again!

Best of luck-

Dear Prospective Physician-

I personally highly recommend working with CIGNA Medical Group and have never regretted my decision to join CMG over 20 years ago.

I have established a core panel of my patients that I follow and this close doctor / patient relationship is very satisfying. We are a quality driven health care delivery system and our patient's satisfaction is of utmost importance. I am very pleased to work with an organization that places their priorities in proper order.

We also have outstanding support throughout our group. This support is available both administratively and clinically, such as our diabetic educators, our Coumadin[®] clinic and our clinical pharmacy team.

We truly work together as a team, which obviously translates into a great work environment. CIGNA Medical Group is a quality healthcare organization, with whom I am proud to work.

Sincerely-

Dear Prospective Physician-

I value my 17 years of employment with CIGNA Medical Group (CMG) for the following reasons:

As a CMG physician, I am free to practice medicine without the administrative hassles that come with running one's own practice. The burden of recruiting, hiring, and firing staff is handled by our management team. Because our administrative team manages the actual day-to-day operations of my office, I am free to see my patients and practice medicine.

The lifestyle is wonderful. With the amount of paid time off, free weekends, holidays, CME, and very limited call duties that CMG offers, I enjoy quality time with my family and I am able to take part in activities outside of medicine. This is enhanced further, because I am confident in knowing that my patients have ready access to high quality urgent and emergency care when I am not taking calls.

The security of a competitive salary, 401K, CME reimbursement, payment for licenses, DEA and malpractice insurance, deferred compensation, and generous bonus and stock rewards are great advantages in being part of the CMG team of physicians. These benefits provide financial security for me and my family.

Finally, the ability to pursue areas of special interest including alternative medicine, participating on the formulary committee and electronic health record committee, quality initiatives in chronic disease management such as diabetes and heart failure, and management/administrative opportunities make working for CMG a wonderful work experience.

Many of our physicians have been with CMG for 15 - 20 years and longer - a testament to the benefits of being an employed physician with CIGNA Medical Group!

Sincerely-
