

CIGNA'S ASO PPACA FEES AND REPORTING RESOURCES

INFORMED ON REFORM

Under the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA), employers sponsoring self-funded plans are responsible for complying with certain fees and taxes and Internal Revenue Service (IRS) reporting requirements. To support our self-funded employers and broker partners, Cigna offers a dedicated ASO PPACA Fees and Reporting Resources team – comprised of trained service professionals from Cigna's Billing, Banking and Eligibility areas.

PPACA topics covered

- › Comparative Effectiveness Research Fee (CERF)
- › Large Employer and Minimum Essential Coverage (MEC) reporting requirements

Services offered

- › Complimentary educational support
- › Timely resources and information to answer questions
- › Referral to Cigna's complimentary educational resource with outside legal counsel, Groom Law Group, as appropriate

Support examples

The team can provide support and answers for questions such as:

CERF

- › When is my CERF payment due?
- › How can I retrieve my CERF report?
- › When or how do I make my payment?

Reporting Requirements

- › What sections of Forms 1094C and 1095C must I complete?
- › Can you guide me through the reporting process?
- › What data can I receive from Cigna?

Service accolades

“They are helpful pros who clearly know the ACA reporting requirements inside and out – and make it look easy! Cigna is really good at this, and we appreciate it!”
– Broker

“The individual I spoke with was very well versed in the processing. I could not have completed the submission without his help. Thanks, Cigna, for taking care of your customers. A job well done!”
– Client
